

PRE-MARITAL

~~SEX~~

Why should I not have sex before marriage?

By Barrington H. Brennen

Including concepts from the book "Why Wait?" by Josh McDowell

Why?

Reasons not to have sex before marriage

- Spiritual reasons
- Physical reasons
- Emotional reasons
- Relational reasons
- Practical reasons

SPIRITUAL REASONS

Spiritual Reasons

- 1 Corinthians 6:12-20 “Flee from sexual immorality.”
- It is sinning against your own body. Sinning against your own body means that you lose respect for your body, as well as the body with whom you have sex.
- Once you lose respect for your body, it becomes increasingly easy to indulge in promiscuous sex.

Spiritual Reasons

- Hebrew 13:4 says that “marriage should be honored by all, and the marriage bed kept pure, for God will judge the adulterer and the sexually immoral.”
- If we choose to ignore what God says, we are placing ourselves under His judgement, and we are subject to the natural consequences of living outside the limits He set for His children.

Spiritual Reasons

- God blesses purity. 1 Thess 4:3-5: “It is God’s will that you should be sanctified: that you should avoid sexual immorality; 4 that each of you should learn to control your own body in a way that is holy and honorable, 5 not in passionate lust like the pagans, who do not know God.”
- God forbids any type of sex outside of the marriage relationship. Not because it is pleasurable, but because it has a far greater purpose than simply pleasure.

PHYSICAL REASONS

Physical Reasons

- No risk of having any kind of sexually transmitted infections.
 - ▶ AIDS, Chlamydia, Gonorrhea, Genital herpes, Venereal Warts, Trichomoniasis, Syphilis and many more.
- Avoid addiction to premarital sex. Sexual addiction is painful and crippling.
- Unwanted pregnancy. Having an unplanned child is usually devastating which may lead to child abuse.
- Abortion. The options open to teenagers who become pregnant are not favorable.

Physical Reasons

- Sex is designed for married folks. Simply said, sex within marriage brings increased unity and an opportunity to give pleasure to your spouse, as well as to find pleasure yourself. Sex outside marriage brings a momentary release. A way to block out problems, but it brings lots of negative consequences.
- Abstaining from sex protects us from emotional hurt, from disease, from damaged relationship, from misery that accompanies sin.

EMOTIONAL
REASONS

Emotional Reasons

- Protection from being evaluated on a performance basis. Sexually active teens also suffer from comparison and the performance syndrome.
- Due to the instant sex of the sexual revolution, people perform rather than make love. Many women can't achieve a sense of intimacy, and their anxiety about how well they perform block their chances for honest arousal. Without genuine involvement, they haven't much chance for courtships, romance or love. They're left feeling cheated and burned out.

Emotional Reasons

- Guilt. The hurt, fears, and feelings of guilt associated with premarital sexual involvement are real.
- Hardships of breaking up . Although having sex does hurt a relationship, it also makes it hard for a couple to break up. Breaking up when you've had sex together can be a terrible tearing experience emotionally. Sex creates an emotional bond so powerful that it must be reserved for marriage.

Emotional Reasons

- Psychological and emotional distress. Premarital sex has a serious adverse effect on the self-image of the person engaging in it. Emotionally crippling guilt, not joy, seems to be the companion of permissive sex.
- Self Esteem. Premarital sex damages one's self-worth. The National Research Council for the National Academy of Sciences concludes that "sexual activity among teenagers is intimately connected with issues of self-image. Without a healthy self-image, people are insecure." hence teenagers have sex to bolster their self-image and it backfires.

Emotional Reasons

- Only one first time. Once you give your virginity, you never, ever, get it back. You will remember the first time you had sex for the rest of your life, regardless of whether you remember it as good or bad. Make it easy and sweet for you--wait until marriage.

RELATIONSHIP
REASONS

Relational Reasons

- Protection from communication breakdowns.
Not only does premarital sex cloud the issue of true love, it tends to distort the communication process. Most of us by nature gravitate toward what comes easily and is pleasurable. Therefore, sex offers an easy way out to those who have never learned to communicate intimacy apart from the physical.
- Protection from a difficult courtship .
Premarital sex makes a courtship more difficult.

- Premarital sex wages war against responsible courtship in two powerful ways. First, it has a binding effect on the partners. In sexually active courtship, many issues surrounding the relationship are often not weighed or dealt with adequately. Once the initial blast of sexual involvement tapers to a more stable flame, unresolved issues become far more pressing. Very often issues that are not resolved during courtship become issues that shipwreck a marriage later on.

Relational Reasons

- Protection from a forced marriage . Usually one partner involved in pre-marital sexual relationship feels compelled to remain and get married even though there are doubts or questions. Why? Because he or she promised not to have sex before marriage and since it happened, they vow not to have another sexual relationship. So they force themselves to stay in the relationship, even though the relationship is having great problems. That pain is taken into the marriage creating havoc. Not engaging in sex before marriage prevents this. Barrington Brennen

PRACTICAL
REASONS

Practical Reasons

- Protection from financial embarrassment.
Premarital sex often leads to pregnancy and children. It costs money to have a family. Most teenagers do not have the resources to have a family. The lack of funds causes emotional stress that sometimes leads to abuse, depression, and emotional stress.
- Protection from delay in educational pursuits .
Premarital sex, because of the excess baggage it brings with it, it prevents many individuals from reaching their educational goals. Barrington Brennen

Practical Reasons

- You have nothing to lose waiting until after marriage to have sex. Although the urges to have sex might be strong, there is absolutely nothing to lose when you wait to have sex after marriage. There is no risk factor in waiting. On the other hand, even if you “play safe” (contraception) the risk factors are ten fold when you have sex before marriage. Sex before marriage can cause you to marry the wrong person for the wrong reasons. Barrington Brennen

Practical Reasons

- Sex before marriage does not prove you will be able to have sex after marriage. Sex before marriage only proves that the penis and vagina are working. It is no proof that the sex organs will continue to work after marriage the same way they did before marriage and that you will be able to satisfy your spouse. Sex before marriage only proves you can have sex but nothing else. It does not guarantee sexual arousal, excitement or enjoyment after marriage. What sex before marriage does is to guarantee pain and misery in the marriage. Waiting will allow a mutual learning experience by both spouses that brings real excitement and happiness. Barrington Brennen

Say no to all sexual activities
before marriage.

Anal Sex

Oral Sex

Petting

Free deep kissing

Vaginal sex

Pornography

Vow to be sexually pure before and during marriage

Sexual purity is not having sex in any form (emotionally or clinically), before marriage and remaining faithful to your spouse after marriage. Barrington Brennen

Remaining sexually pure before and after marriage means that you never lose your virginity.

When you lose something it is a negative loss. Virginity is offered in marriage, it is not lost. Virginity is the ultimate gift in marriage.

Barrington Brennen

VIRGINITY

Foreplay

Sleeping Together

Sexual Passion

Long Hugs

Bathing Together

Sexual intercourse

Total Self Disclosure

Love Making

Sexual Massages

Passionate Kissing

PRE-MARITAL

~~SEX~~

